

Whistleblowing Policy Statement

In this policy 'Whistleblowing' means the reporting by employees of suspected misconduct, illegal acts or failure to act with Hercules Site Services Ltd.

The aim of this policy is to encourage employees and others who have serious concerns about any aspect of Hercules' work to come forward and voice those concerns.

Qualifying Disclosures

1. Certain disclosures are prescribed by law as "qualifying disclosures". A "qualifying disclosure" means a disclosure of information that the employee genuinely and reasonably believes is in the public interest and shows that Hercules Site Services Ltd has committed a "relevant failure" by:
 - Committing a criminal offence
 - Failing to comply with a legal obligation
 - A miscarriage of justice
 - Endangering the health and safety of an individual
 - Environmental damage
 - Concealing any information relating to the above
2. These acts can be in the past, present or future, so that, for example, a disclosure qualifies if it relates to environmental damage that has happened, is happening, or is likely to happen. Hercules Site Services Ltd will take any concerns that you may raise relating to the above matters very seriously.
3. The Employment Rights Act 1996 provides protection for workers who 'blow the whistle' where they reasonably believe that some form of illegality, injustice or breach of health and safety has occurred or is likely to occur. The disclosure has to be "in the public interest". We encourage you to use the procedure to raise any such concerns.

The Procedure

1. In the first instance you should report any concerns you may have to the HR Team, your line manager, the Managing Director or the Construction Director, as appropriate, who will treat the matter with complete confidence. If you are not satisfied with the explanation or reason given to you, you should raise the matter with the appropriate official organisation or regulatory body.
2. If you do not report your concerns to the HR Team, Managing Director or Construction Director, you should take them direct to the appropriate organisation or body.

Treatment By Others

Bullying, harassment or any other detrimental treatment afforded to a colleague who has made a qualifying disclosure is unacceptable. Anyone found to have acted in such a manner would be subject to disciplinary action.

The Managing Director shall review this policy annually or following significant changes.
